

Evidence that MVP screens exist :

Main path & Alternative flow :

Main path:

From home page select if you want to create an account or log in. If you chose to create a new account enter the required information and click “Create Account” it will then send you to the login page. If you chose to log in and already have an account enter your credentials and click “sign In” it will redirect you to the chat page.

Alternative path:

- If you don't belong to any group, you will be redirected to a temporary page informing you that you are not part of any class. Here you can logout or refresh to see if you have been assigned to a group.
- If you try to send an empty message, nothing will happen.
